Feedback Report: Educators are among the most significant stakeholders, and their comments can be used to improve student capacity and capabilities as well as the institution. The institution can assess and rectify its inadequacies with the help of the relevant input. Teachers generally had positive things to say about the school and gave it "Excellent," "Good," and "Satisfactory" ratings. In the greater interest of the student body, the teachers did propose, however, that the college canteen's offerings be enhanced and that a greater variety of wholesome food be provided.

Action Taken: The institution decided to enhance the canteen service after taking the professors' remarks into consideration. It was decided that a weekly inspection of the canteen's food items and services would take place. It was also requested to the canteen owner to have high-quality food items available there.
